Recycling Center Will Help Educate Residents

By Irene Pettyjohn

The success of the new Crawford Otsego Recycling Center will depend to a great degree upon the education of the residents of Northern Michigan.

John Miller, the manager of the Recycling Center, estimates that only 10 to 15% of the affected population are really "into recycling."

"If you took 100 homes in either Gaylord or Grayling and, going door-to-door, asked the household to bundle their newspapers and set them on the curb for pick-up, or asked them to put their plastic containers in a separate bag for recycling, probably 10 to 15 homes would participate in the process."

Miller said that education will come in three stages. The first stage of the adult recycling involves understanding the importance of the process. This education will come as solid waste disposal becomes more and more expensive.

Currently, in-county commercial haulers are paying $2.75 per yard to dispose of their refuse at the Crawford Otsego Landfill. Out-of-county haulers are paying $3.75 per yard. Miller stated that beginning January 1st these fees will increase by $.50 per yard. Haulers who have not installed paper catchers underneath their trucks so that he can keep separate bundles of papers set out with the household refuse, will also pay an additional $.25 per yard for dumping at the county landfill.

Commercial haulers will pass on these increased expenses to residents in the form of higher monthly fees. Miller said that without recycling, he believes monthly bills could double in the near future.

Because the Crawford Otsego Landfill is located on state land, any resident of the state has a right to use the facility. Miller explained that he has been traveling to all of the Northern Michigan communities who use the Crawford Otsego Landfill to appraise them of the $.25 increase for trucks not equipped to recycle papers.

"We have counties coming in here who have transfer stations," said Miller. "They have their garbage trucks go around in the cities, like Cheboygan. They go to the transfer stations, dump their garbage, and then put it onto large semis and have it brought to this landfill. I have gone to those haulers and told them that I want to see paper catchers on their trucks by January 1, or their going to pay an extra $.25 per yard, when their semis get to Crawford County." Miller said he doesn't care how the communities recycle these papers but he told them that he wants records kept so that he can verify that recycling is occurring in their communities.

SECOND STAGE

The second stage of adult recycling education is understanding why recycling is necessary. Miller said that the Center does not officially open until Tuesday, September 6, but already he is being asked, "How much money are you going to pay for my old stove and these newspapers?" Miller explained that the Recycling Center is not going to pay anyone for their papers, plastic, aluminum and scrap metal. "The idea is not to run a junk yard and buy at a reduced price then sell at a slightly higher price thus realizing a profit," said Miller. "The idea is to reduce, by possibly 20%, the amount of refuse buried in expensive lined trenches."

"The new leach catcher trench I'm putting in," explained Miller, "will have a double lined bottom. It will have a liner in the bottom, 2 feet of dirt, and another liner. When the trench is full, a liner goes over the top and a 12 inch pipe is dropped into it and all the drainage off that trench has to be pumped into a lagoon. That process alone costs $440,000." Miller said that the less plastic, newspapers, and old refrigerators put into that leach trench, the longer it lasts before we have to cap it, and begin again.

THIRD STAGE

The third stage for recycling education will occur in the area schools. Gaylord as already presented a recycling program in their schools. Miller said that like any educational program, it is most effective when directed at the young. He hopes that when the time comes for today's children to form their own households, recycling will be natural conservation practice.

The Crawford Otsego Recycling Center is presently equipped to accept computer paper, cardboard, newspaper, aluminum and scrap metal from old appliances. Miller anticipates that the Center will be establishing drop-off facilities for plastic, containers in many Northern Michigan communities within the next 90 days.

Waste oil will also be recycled in a oil burner which will heat the Recycling Center. Miller has been waiting for official approval from the DNR's air control department before accepting waste oil from individuals and businesses. Miller hopes to hear something definite within the next two weeks, so that he can begin accepting bids from contractors for installation of the har- ting system. The Center will be able to store

Natural River Plan Sent to Township Board for Approval

By Irene Pettyjohn

"Time is running out" said Ken Eggert, acting chairman of the Grayling Township Planning Commission.

Eggert told the small group assembled for the second public hearing of the Natural River Plan that if Grayling Township does not adopt the Department of Natural Resources' zoning ordinance with the Township's more restrictive amendments before September 29th, the Township faces losing local control of the properties along the AuSable River to the DNR.

In his opening address Eggert explained that the Natural River Plan was approved by the Natural Resources Commission last summer and takes effect on September 30. He then opened the hearing for public comment.

Steve Jorgenson spoke on behalf of the AuSable River Property Owner's Association. He complimented the Planning Commission on the progress they had made on the proposal and said he had only a few changes he would like to suggest.

"On page 36 of the original Natural River Plan," he said, "you've omitted two paragraphs under Section F in your ordinance. The first line under 'Industrial and Commercial uses and Structures' number one is omitted from your draft, and this is more restrictive than your draft, so it has to be included. Also 'D,' " he stated, "where it says new canoe liveries, that also is omitted from your draft, and that has to be included. This is a requirement of the Natural River Plan in that it is more restrictive, and your draft doesn't address that at all."

Members of the Planning Commission said that their ordinance which stated that, "Industrial uses and structures are prohibited" was more restrictive than the DNR's version, because it prohibits ANY new industrial use or new business construction on the AuSable.

Jorgenson disagreed. "No, don't misunderstand me," he said, "you don't even address canoe liveries. The way yours is written, expansion is not prohibited." Jorgenson continued by saying, "What's going to happen here, if this is not included, is that the DNR is going to come along and say put it in there because it was in ours."

Jorgenson made several other suggestions for changes in the ordinance's terminology to clarify the ordinance's meaning.

At the conclusion of Jorgenson's presentation to the commission he stated that the AuSable River Property Owner's Association was requesting that the Planning Commission

Committee Seeks Information On Camp Grayling Issue

The eleven member Camp Grayling Management Advisory Committee listened intently as speaker after speaker poured out facts and opinions concerning what is wrong and right with the Camp Grayling military facility.

The public hearing was held Tuesday, August 30, in the Cedar Room at the Grayling Holiday Inn. Presentations began at 8:00 a.m. and continued until almost 2:00 p.m.

Ronald Steffens, the Governor appointed chairman of the advisory committee, explained that the committee had been appointed by Governor Blanchard in response to an overwhelming amount of interest that has been demonstrated by the communities of Grayling, Gaylord and Lovells in the activities of Camp Grayling and how they affect the areas.

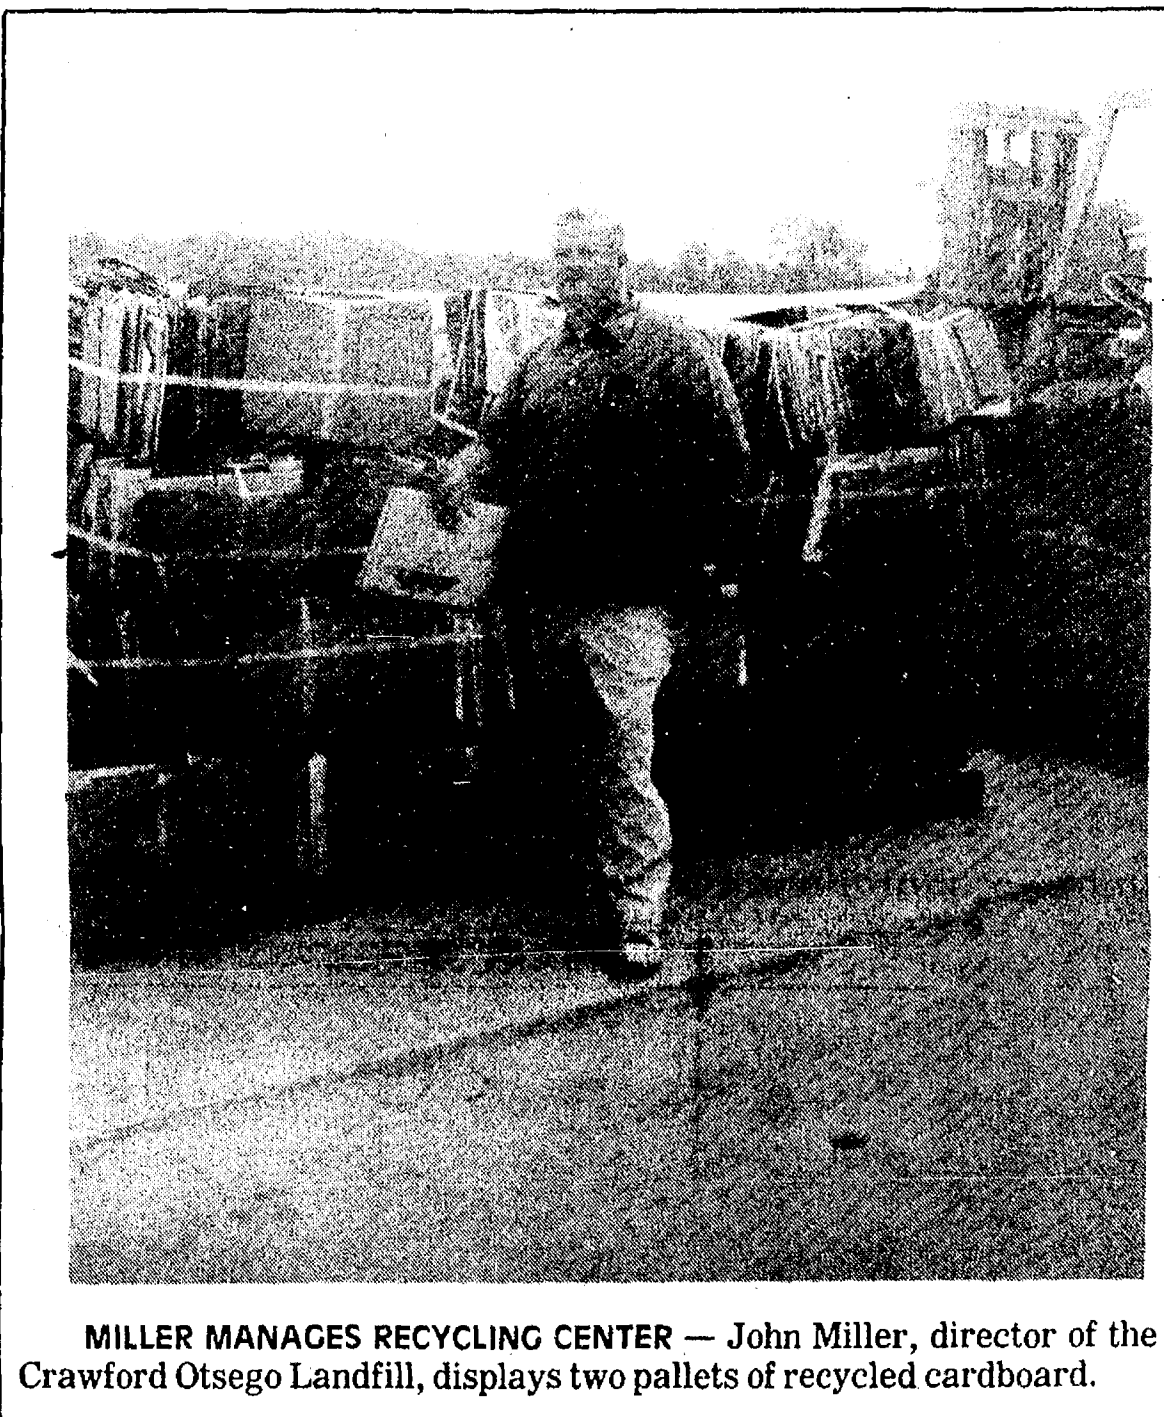

Steffens stated that, "our job is basically to understand what the issues are and try to sort through those issues and make recommendations by the end of the year to the Governor in terms of ways in which these problems can be handled." Steffens said that the committee's job was not to provide information regarding what is going on in Camp Grayling, but rather to find out.

Throughout the day, the committee heard from a cross-section of persons who live, work and play in the Crawford, Otsego and Kalkaska Counties.

Charlie Weaver is a river guide on the AuSable and Manistee Rivers. He reported that he was a teacher who had spent many summers and weekends in the area before he moved to Kalkaska County. "I thought I knew fairly accurately how much the guard was here...what the level of their activity was, and I could live with that," he said. "They had their side of the road, I had mine. The river was on my side of the road. That's changed in the five years I've been up here. They are across the road."

Bernard Fowler, a resident of Crawford County and owner of Edgewater on the AuSable, recalled the National Guard's expansion process. "I remember when most of the guard activity easterly of Grayling was between Jones Lake Road and Stephan Bridge Road. It then moved farther east and was between Jones Lake Road and Damon Truck Trail. Next it was extended from Jones Lake Road to North Down River Road, near Bald Hill. It then moved across North Down River Road toward AuSable

Opposition Remains Strong Against Road-End Proposal

By Irene Pettyjohn

Each successive public hearing held to address Grayling Township's proposed road-end ordinance captures a smaller audience; however, the feelings of those in attendance remains strongly opposed to the ordinance in any form.

On Tuesday, August 30, the Grayling Township Planning Commission submitted yet another draft of the proposed road-end ordinance for public scrutiny.

Planning Commission members in attendance included Ken Eggert, acting chairman, Mary Allen, Rose Keusch, Tony Nicholas, and Monica Ashton.

Gerald Terry, a back-lot property owner at Lake Margrethe, was the first speaker to address the Planning Commission. Terry had attended several of the earlier public hearings and asked if the Planning Commission had arrived at any conclusions other than those discussed at previous hearings. He reminded the commission that following the last public hearing a vote taken of the people in attendance revealed that "something like 57 to 6 persons voting expressed their opposition to the proposed road-end ordinance."

The Planning Commission advised Terry that copies of the revised road-end proposal was available on the table at the entrance of the auditorium.

Harold Smith asked the commission to clarify what constituted a road-end. "Are all streets," he asked, "that end at the waters edge considered road-ends?"

Eggert told Smith that all roads that end at the waters edge were considered public road-ends. He said that there were many other "road-ends" that do not appear to be at the ends of roads that are also considered road-ends and offer public access to Lake Margrethe.

Roy Vogelsberg explained to the Planning Commission that he was in a unique situation. "I happen to be a second-lot owner."

I also happen to be a lake front property owner. I invested my money, something like 39 years ago, with the understanding I could have that back property and the access to the lake was going to be for public access." Vogelsberg said that he did not intend to sell his second-lot at this time, but he said that if he did decide to sell, the proposed ordinance would make it impossible for him to tell a prospective buyer that they have lake privileges. "Under your ordinance," he stated, "they can't put a dock out there, and they can't put a boat out there, unless they bring it in every night. I'm going to tell you flat out right now the ordinance that you are proposing is not in the light of the best public interest of Lake Margrethe." Vogelsberg stated, "The second-lot owners are being deprived of their rights."

Eggert explained to Vogelsberg that the ordinance is an attempt by Grayling Township to define reasonable and safe use of the Lake Margrethe road-ends, so that hopefully the lawsuit that Lyon Township is currently engaged in does not repeat itself in Grayling Township.

Vogelsberg stood by his seat and shouted, "I'm in court right now! I have been sued and I will pursue the suing of an access to this lake because the Township has not taken proper actions to declare what is right, who owns what, what the riparian rights are and what the responsibilities of the Township or the Road Commission are. That has not been explained. I'm in court on that, and I have to stand up and say...what am I going to say? This Township has not supported me one bit."

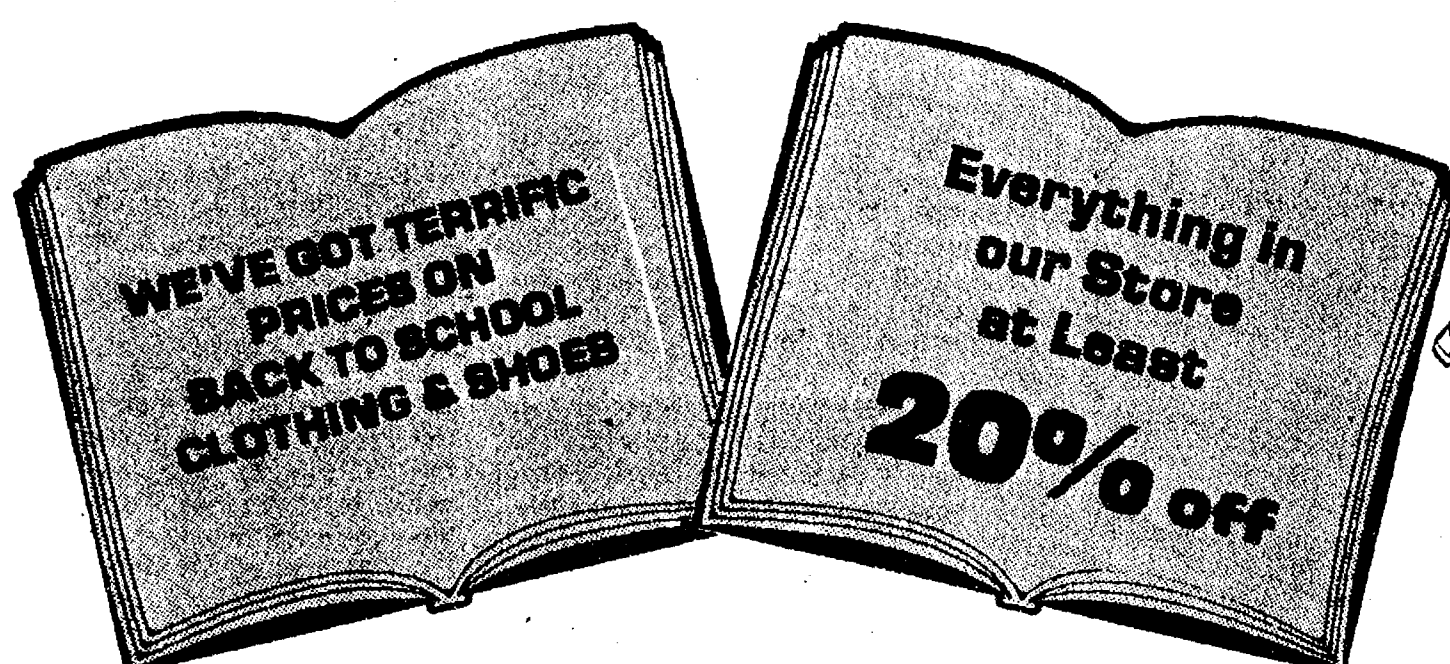

Petitions Against

Eggert read into the hearing's record two letters. The first letter was from Luke Noss, and was in favor of the road-end ordinance. The second letter was signed by 19 Lincoln Park property owners who were all opposed to the ordinance.

Gary Bofsyil presented to the Planning Commission a plat map of the Portage Lake Park and Portage Heights area which he contended proves that the original developer (back in the early nineteen hundreds) platted the lake resort subdivision the way he did to give back-lot property owners exclusive access to the lake. He pre-

Miller stated that last Saturday's ribbon cutting and open house was a culmination of more than five months of work, and a capital outlay of more than $157,000. A large portion of Miller's labor was given to the people of Crawford County during his tenure as a member of the Crawford County Board of Commissioners. The capital outlay came entirely from landfill fees and a $.10 per cubic yard recycling surcharge.

PUBLIC BENEFITS FROM WORK

Miller resigned his position on the County Board of Commissioners to take on the management of the Crawford Otsego Recycling Center. Much of the work he does still amounts to public service. Miller explained his near compulsion for community involvement by saying, "I am a public servant, and I feel that I am supposed to do the work that I am doing. The work that I do today is reflection of my life as it was back in 1949." Miller explained that it was during that time that he contracted Polio. "Mine was one of the first cases in the County," said Miller. "I was paralyzed from my neck down, and spent many months in an iron lung."

Miller recalled that his family was very poor. "There wasn't any money for the necessary operations," he remembered. "But I can walk today because of the efforts of many people in Crawford County, Mrs. Gorman, Bud Hunter, Leo Lovely and many others who are gone now." Miller stated, "I owe the people of Crawford County, and it is an impossible debt to repay. Crawford County has been good to me," he said, "so I continue to serve."

The Crawford Otsego Recycling Center is open Monday through Saturday, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. During the summer months from Memorial Day through Labor Day the Recycling Center will be open seven days a week.

Opposition Remains Strong

sented a petition with 176 other backlot owners who concurred with his contentions. The petition read as follows:

"We, the undersigned, being backlot property owners of Lake Margrethe (Portage Lake Park and Portage Heights) Crawford County, Michigan and users of the public access roadends as platted on the original plat, find it difficult to believe that the original proprietor would plat a lake resort subdivision in a manner which would deny lake access to three-fourths of his intended purchasers."

Further, the undersigned property owners believe that the purpose for designating public access in the original plan of Portage Lake Park and Portage Heights was to provide backlot owners reasonable close access to the lake as part of their lot owners rights."

We, the undersigned feel that Grayling Township has no right to deny or restrict the use of roadends by backlot property owners of Portage Lake Park and Portage Heights."

Bofysil stated, "that through this petition, the public of Portage Lake Park and Portage Heights is speaking."

Bob Paulsen fully supported Bofysil's statements. He also addressed several specific concerns with the ordinance including insurance costs, jurisdiction (Township versus Road Commission), the safety of augers as anchoring tools, and dock storage on the beach. Paulsen said, "I think that it's just common sense, and when we talk about all these things we really should be talking about common sense. I don't think we should be looking for ways to make it tough for everybody to comply."

STILL OPPOSED

Art Ueberroth stated that he has attended every meeting, ad hoc and otherwise, that has been held on the road-end ordinance. He went on record as saying that he is still opposed to the ordinance in its entirety. "I don't think it is necessary," he said, "I don't think it is needed. We haven't had a problem big enough to warrant this ordinance, and I really believe that you are creating a problem that wouldn't be there if we didn't have the ordinance."

Ralph Allman, questioned why Summit and Collins Avenue were selected as roadends that could not have docks. "It's crazy," Allman said, "because Collins Avenue has one of the widest accesses down to the lake. I don't know why this area was selected." Allman said that his family has had a cottage at Lake Margrethe since 1935. "We've never, never, NEVER had one bit of trouble with anybody. It's just a great community down there, and I want to know what's going on."

Eggert said that the dock restriction on Summit and Collins Avenues were not made because there was a problem. He said the restriction was set to ensure that emergency watercraft would have a launching site. Eggert said that similar restrictions have been placed on other road-ends for the same purpose.

"Summit is about the only place we can launch a boat on our side of the lake," Allman said. "You cannot launch a boat off Collins Avenue. I'm sorry that this ordinance is going to happen."

Other lake residents who presented their opposition to the road-end ordinance included Tom Trenary, George Monk, John Medler, Sherry Blaine, Charles Joyce, and Colleen Bofysil.

Of the 14 persons who spoke at the public hearing, and the two letters read into the record, only one person expressed approval of the Grayling Township Planning Commission's proposed road-end ordinance.

Hill area and Dyer Truck Trail. It is now all the way to Connor's Flats Road, which is the last road before reaching the AuSable River."

Norm Schmooch, LTC retired, was the Camp Grayling range officer from 1975-1983. Schmooch asked the committee to examine the Camp Grayling range firing records to discover the truth before making a determination whether there has been an increase in range utilization. "I instituted the records as to range utilization by hours, by day, month and year." He said that these records exist.

Carl Craft, owner of the North Country Lodge, stated that approximately 30% of his motel business comes from the military. "I know that if just the Michigan Guard was coming in here by itself, we would be greatly affected. Our two best camps are the Michigan National Guard and the Indiana National Guard."

Jody Chapman from Gaylord asked each of the committee members, as appointed fact-finders, to "please find out why General Andrews has been so rude and insensitive to the issues of so many concerned people. You have been given letters," he said, "and testimony to these facts. It is evident that he needs some attitude change. Maybe the best way to get those results is for him to rid himself of the attitude that we are pests, and he doesn't have to do anything because he is in charge. "Maybe, Chapman said, "it's time to look for new leadership."

Linda K. Caswell, Manistee River resident of Frederic Township, is concerned about the pollution of the area's natural resources. "We have seen the quality of water go down, the quality of life for animals go down, the quality of life for residents, and now we're asked to be happy about having an air strip where C130s are going to land." Caswell stated, "The DNR and the Environmental Protection Agency are supposed to be stewards for me, as far as this land is concerned. I don't feel that any airstrip, whether it's military or private, needs to built in a watershed area."

Jack Trudgeon has been a resident of Crawford County for 32 years and owner of Borchers Canoe Livery for 20 years. Trudgeon said, "I support the National Guard. I go up and down the AuSable River quite often and maybe I'm used to it, but I don't see where the river has been damaged by the National Guard being here. I think that the National Guard is a vital part of the economy of this area. It's not the only part, but it is a vital part. It really scares me to think of the National Guard being drastically reduced or yanked out of Grayling."

Many other persons, approximately 37, came forward to express their concerns about National Guard activities. After everyone who asked to speak completed their presentations, the committee closed the hearing. Following lunch they reconvened in the basement of the Crawford County Courthouse to hear statements from several organizations.

mission seriously consider adding a clause to the Natural River Plan to remove any possibility that a future developer could use a Planning Unit Development (PUD) to commercially develop along the 400 foot strip of the AuSable River.

Bob Lindsey, an AuSable River resident, asked how the Township was going to deal with the tax base on the portion of property along the river that people own and cannot utilize.

"For 200 feet from that river you can't touch. Why should we, as citizens, pay taxes on property we cannot use? Can you answer that for me?"

Eggert said that the Township board cannot make this plan any less restrictive than the DNR's plan. "This plan was not our idea," he said.

Arnold Stancil, Township Supervisor, stated that nothing was going to happen to the tax structure at this time. He said there is a clause in the Natural River Plan that says that zoning and set backs have to be considered, but it is going to take time to observe how the plan is going to affect market values. "Taxes are based on market value," Stancil stated, "and to establish market value I have to see the trend so that I know what to do."

Bob Andrus inquired into the commission's omission of the paragraph in the original Natural River Plan that addressed new construction of canoe liveries, and the expansion of existing canoe liveries.

The commission assured Andrus that whereas they had felt the subject of any new construction of business along the AuSable had been adequately covered in their proposal, they would return the DNR's wording regarding canoe liveries and expansions back into their proposed ordinance.

The Township Planning Commission closed the public hearing by announcing that the final draft of the Natural River Plan would be completed and voted on at the work session scheduled for Thursday, September 1, at the Township offices. Eggert explained that the public was welcome; however, because it was a commission work session, questions and comments would probably not be allowed.

At Thursday's work session, the Township Planning Commission reviewed each recommendation suggested by the speakers who attended the second public hearing.

Each of the changes suggested by Steve Jorgenson were incorporated into the Natural River Plan final draft.

The Planning Commission then voted unanimously to approve the Natural River Plan with the Township's amendments and forward it to the Grayling Township Board for their September 13th meeting.

Attending public hearings last week around this area was a full-time job.

In fact, it was more than that. It was a full-time job with overtime.

On Monday night, Aug. 29, in the GHS auditorium, there was a Grayling Twp. public hearing concerning a development plan by Eugene Kraus for the former Rayburn property.

In the GHS library that same night there was a hearing about a property transfer request dealing with the Crawford AuSable school district and the Gaylord school district.

Also on Monday night, at Grayling City Hall, the City Council held a public hearing on a proposal to rezone property on Peninsular Street.

In addition to these, from 4-7 p.m. Monday at Hidden Valley, the committee appointed by Governor Blanchard held its first public hearing on the Camp Grayling issue.

If that wasn't enough, the next morning at 8 a.m. the Governor's committee began a public hearing at the Grayling Holiday Inn concerning Camp Grayling. Tuesday afternoon, the committee heard representatives from groups speak about Camp Grayling.

On Tuesday night, the Grayling Twp. Planning Commission held public hearings on both the AuSable Natural Rivers Plan and a proposed road-end ordinance at Lake Margrethe.

These were quite a few hearings on important issues within our community wrapped up in two days. And if two persons working full-time at the Avalanche had to scramble to cover these meetings, how could one citizen find the time to give his or her opinion at these important hearings?

As busy as many residents are, attending public hearings can be difficult. Last week there were hundreds of good people in this county — people who care — who didn't have their opinions recorded on these significant issues.

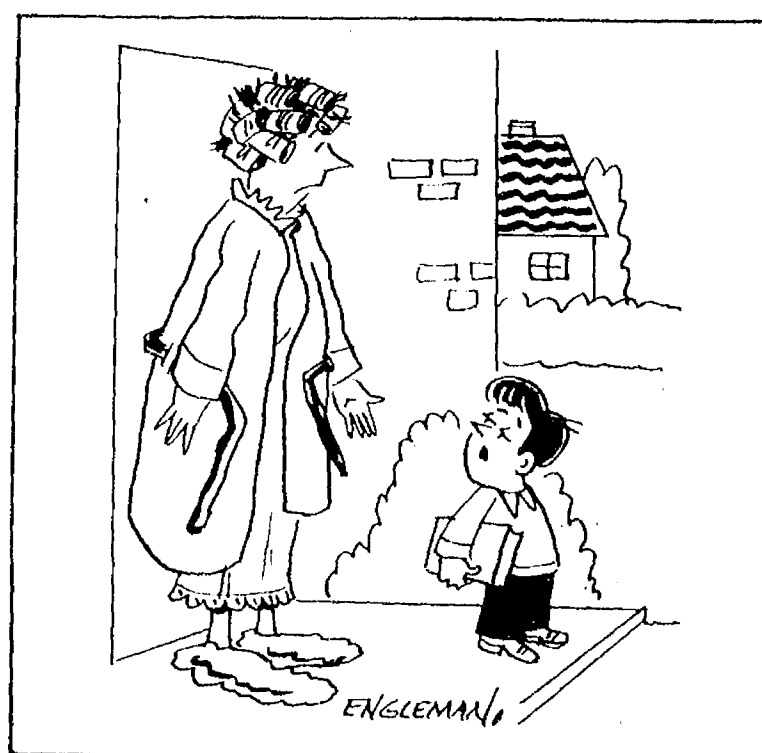

The way many decisions are made following public hearings, expressing your opinion can often be as important as casting a ballot in a tight election. With the popularity of absentee ballots growing in elections, Crawford County residents should also consider sending your opinions in a short letter to public hearings. Most of the time these letters will be received with the same consideration as a presentation made in person.

The short letters should state very clearly whether you oppose or approve the proposal. Give your main reasons why and offer alternatives or solutions if you have one. Often public comment periods last quite a while giving you a chance to send in a letter when you have the opportunity.

Don't let someone else take care of Crawford County. Join in.

Guest Column

By Michael J. Carr, Commissioner
Bureau of State Lottery

I don't know how many times I've been asked, "Where is all that lottery money going?" or, "Why should I vote for a local millage issue when my taxes are already too high and the lottery was supposed to reduce them?" Furthermore, because lottery funding for education is so frequently misunderstood and difficult to explain, local school boards have an even tougher job convincing voters to support millage proposals.

Several things contribute to misconceptions about lottery support to schools, especially the fact that a lot of people just don't realize how much it costs to educate our young people. According to Department of Education figures, the total cost of educating the 1.6 million children currently attending public schools in Michigan is a whopping $6.7 billion. That's billion dollars, not million.

Secondly, I suspect many assume the state provides the lion's share of funding for schools. This is simply not the case. More than half of this revenue must come from local taxpayers — in spite of the fact that the largest share (34%) of the total state operating budget goes for education.

The State of Michigan's contribution to education is primarily in the form of revenue from the School Aid Fund, and that's where the lottery comes into the picture. Since 1981, all net lottery revenues have been specifically earmarked for inclusion in that fund to help support kindergarten - 12th grade public education. Lottery money amounts to about 16% of revenue in the School Aid Fund annually, or $407 million last year. The rest comes from a variety of other sources including the state's General Fund.

The School Aid Fund is then distributed by the Department of Education according to terms of the state School Aid Formula, established each year by our elected representatives in the Michigan Legislature.

The School Aid Formula is the method used to determine which school districts are eligible for state aid (in-formula), and those which are not eligible for state aid (out-of-formula) because local taxpayer support is adequate to provide quality education with minimal state assistance. So, school districts with a poorer local tax base receive more state aid than those in which there are adequate local resources.

Nevertheless, lottery support of education has indirectly saved taxpayers money because the state no longer has to pull a comparable amount out of the state's General Fund — made up primarily of money collected from taxpayers — to fulfill its role in supporting education. (During just the last two years, lottery funding was the equivalent of about $250 per Michigan household.)

It's also important to note that both lottery contributions and General Fund money for education have increased over the past few years.

Maybe all the confusion began back in 1972 when the lottery was first begun. I'm sure many who voted on the referendum which permitted its establishment wanted to believe it would be a cure-all for educational funding woes. It's even possible that some proponents contributed to this misconception. But, the fact remains that the lottery is not a panacea.

My intent here is not to downplay the role of the Michigan Lottery. It has, and will continue to be, very important in helping provide needed revenue for our schools. But, the lottery's contribution can never be anywhere near large enough to carry that burden alone.

As citizens who understand that our hope for the future rests with the children of today, we must support our local school boards and approve millage proposals when needed. Providing a quality education for our young people is a responsibility we all share.

Smoke rising over Grayling

FOLKS ARE HAVING a chance to sound off in the northlands these days.

Gov. Blanchard invoked a special committee to listen to gripes of the northlanders about Camp Grayling. And the gripes have come cascading out of the mouths and hearts of the disgruntled.

Camp Grayling, of course, is the sprawling National Guard facility in northern Michigan which has been used for military training since long before most of the protesters were born.

As the methods of warfare have changed, so have the needs of the military, and therefore so have the methods and details of training.

Military activity by nature is loud. Tanks roll. Planes fly. Ammunition is fired. Soldiers march and camp and sometimes jump out of airplanes. You cannot train military personnel quietly, and on gentle steps.

PROTESTERS CLAIM they can't sleep on some nights. They claim nature is being turned upside down. They fear air and land and water and sound pollution.

And in truth, there is some merit in their fears.

Many of the protesters, according to Guard backers, are part-time residents, or vacationers, or recent move-ins. The Guard was there when they came to the northland, so they should have known what to expect, goes this argument.

And there is some merit in these reactions, too.

The National Guard is a vital element of the economy of the Grayling area, and several counties surrounding the encampment. Hundreds of local residents are employed at one or another of the military establishments, and hundreds more make their livelihood because the National Guard camp is in the area.

The vacationers and the summer residents can go back home to their own jobs or businesses, and retirees and others with outside income can be financially comfortable without the Guard but lots of Grayling area folks need the Guard to put food on the table, and that's one big difference in the outlooks of the sides in this controversy.

SOMEWHERE IN this whole swirl of emotions there is probably a sane approach toward a solution. The governor's committee is supposed to have some suggestions by year's end but Solomon-like wisdom from that source is not likely.

An early comment by the committee's chairman is interesting. After the first two hearings, the chairman seemed to have reached some conclusions.

"People are mad as hell, and they aren't going to take it anymore," said Ronald L. Steffens, chairman of the advisors. "If I were a politician, I'd listen and try to put out the fire before it goes any further."

Which side does it sound like Mr. Steffens is going to favor on the final report? Incidentally, in non-government life, Mr. Steffens is a vice president of the AAA of Michigan, which is a strong pro-environment voice in most matters which come before the public. Hmnnnn.

THE GRAYLING controversy has been going on loudly for a couple of years now, but most observers of smalltown life can find a corollary closer to home.

In many areas, those who are already there oppose progress or change of any sort. Once some folks get into a pleasant surrounding, they want to shut the gates and keep everyone else out.

Or there are those who favor progress, but in someone else's neighborhood. Sure we need prisons, they reason, out over there, not here.

Everyone wants industry, but they all want the plant which produces high wages paid to well-educated professional employees, but causes no traffic increase, produces no smoke and makes no noise.

The emotions in the battle of Camp Grayling are high.

So are the economic stakes for the north county.

EXERCISE AND HEART DISEASE PREVENTION

Exercising for health has become a way of life in many American households. Now, new evidence shows that exercise can be helpful in preventing coronary heart disease (CHD).

Commonly accepted risk factors for CHD (or reasons why CHD occurs) are smoking, high cholesterol levels in the blood, high blood pressure and, to some extent, being greatly overweight. To this list should be added lack of physical activity.

Centers for Disease Control (CDC) researchers, examining many studies of the relationship between exercise and coronary heart disease, have found that there is, indeed, a link between increased physical activity and lower risk for CHD. More than two-thirds of the studies they reviewed showed that exercise reduces risk.

The fact that many Americans are inactive may come as a surprise in this day of fitness and enthusiasm for sports. Yet, two national surveys from 1985 show that about 60 percent of Americans do fewer than three sessions of activity per week and fewer than 20 minutes of activity per session. About one in four Americans surveyed participated in no exercise during leisure time. Because few Americans get physical activity on the job, the threat of CHD remains undiminished. Researchers say that the link between lack of physical activity and CHD appears to be as strong as the links between the development of CHD and smoking, serum cholesterol and hypertension.

How much physical activity is good for health? We know, generally, that those who perform more physical activity tend to have the lowest risk for CHD. This doesn't mean that everyone needs to start running hard on a regular basis. In fact, unless advised otherwise by their own doctor, most people should start a regular walking routine that is as brisk as comfortable. A daily walk of 30 minutes or more without stopping can help Americans reduce their risk of developing heart disease. Daily walks will also help to keep weight down, and they can bring about improvements in heart and lung fitness and in mental health.

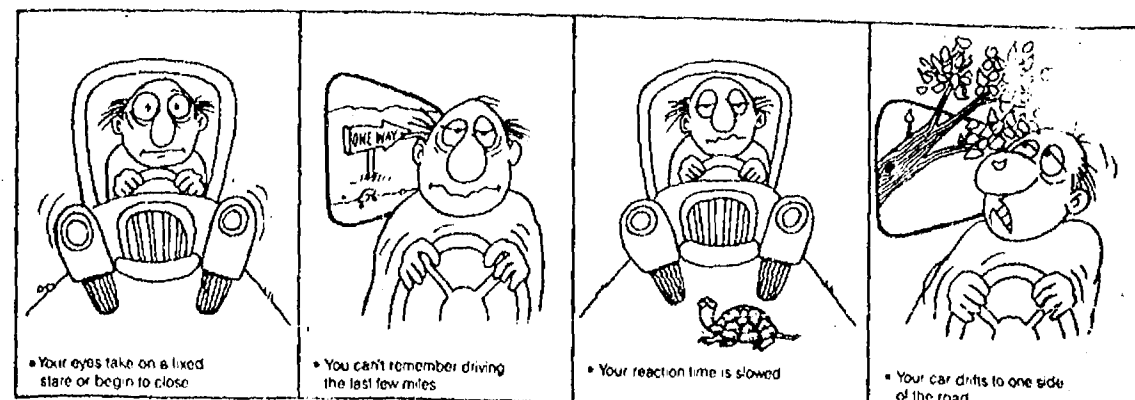

If for some reason daily walks aren't possible, try to take at least three walks per week. If you can't go for the entire 30 minutes without stopping, gradually phase into this amount of walking over a period of one to two months.

People who don't exercise often complain that they simply don't have the time. A lack of time is a convenient excuse, of course, but even the busiest people can think of ways to fit walking into their daily schedules. For instance:

1. When possible, walk to and from work.
2. Park your car or get off the bus or subway farther away from your destination than usual and walk the rest of the way.
3. Take walks at lunch or during a daily break from work.
4. Walk with family or friends to make exercise a social occasion and to help them get the benefits as well.

Physical activity is more than fun. It is a pleasant way to reduce the risk of coronary heart disease, one of America's major public health problems and a chronic disease that costs many lives a year. Prevention of disease: it's never too early to start.

M.E.T. Applications Divided Among all Age Groups

The Michigan Education Trust, the state's guaranteed college tuition program, has received an actuarial boost when it was revealed that applications were widely spread among all age groups.

Accountants told the MET Board that the prices that were tentatively set in June will likely remain unchanged because of the distribution of applications.

A breakdown on the 82,495 MET applications received during August 1-5 reveals that 37.1 percent of all applicants have not yet entered kindergarten, and 58.5 percent of the applicants are in grade 2 and below.

The highest age group of applicants was from children born in 1987, 7.9 percent, while only .3 percent of high school seniors applied. The percentage of applicants drops off with each grade following grade 1's 7.4 percentage.

"By not having (MET) benefits drawn in any one year, it makes for an ideal world," Treasurer and Board Chair Robert Bowman said. "Such a diversity of ages among MET applicants assures parents that the trust will be financially sound."

Bowman said the MET Board would wait until it had completed a zip code analysis expected to be completed Thursday - of applicants before finalizing its price structure.

The accounting firm of Coopers & Lybrand reported that 24 percent of University of Michigan students are from Oakland County, and if a high percentage of Oakland County residents sent in applications, it could force a change in the price structure previously announced ($1,689 per year for a newborn).

Bowman also plans to do an income tax analysis of the applicants, hoping to disprove the theory that the MET program only benefits the middle class. He said he will turn over the results of the income tax analysis to the Legislature.

Other major items that could affect actual results unfavorably would be if an excessively large portion of the fund is locked in when interest rates are rising rapidly, substantially decreased participation in future years, or if very few of the applicants actually participate in the program.

If every applicant participates in the program, the state will have $550 million to invest, assuming all purchase four years of guaranteed tuition at universities. Only 400 applicants, or 1/2 percent, indicated they will purchase contracts for community and junior colleges only.

The MET Board also unanimously approved final contract language, which will allow Bowman to take the slightly-revised contract to the state Administrative Board for approval.

He said his goal is to have the contracts mailed out in the first week of September. Applicants will have until the end of the year to arrange financing and return the MET contract with their payment.

YOUTH CORPS WORKERS RATE PROGRAM A SUCCESS

A Harris survey released recently showed that most former Michigan Youth Corps workers say they would participate in the program again and even prefer it to direct state aid for college.

Louis Harris, in releasing the findings, said his firm conducted extensive interviews with 1,000 participants early in the program and 718 following completion of the program in 1987.

The results indicate that though three out of four youths joined the Youth Corps to earn money, by the end of their work experience they valued self-improvement, teamwork, responsibility and completing a project above getting a paycheck.

Youth Corps members were asked to choose between their experience in the program, employment in state government or the private sector, or direct financial aid for college.

Fifty-eight percent chose the work experience, with only 17 percent saying they would rather have direct college aid.

Other survey results indicated that 94 percent of the participants gave the program an overall positive rating, and 87 percent said it enhanced their personal maturity.

A second part of the study, interviews with 497 of the 1987 participants, conducted this summer, "confirms last year's Harris results: the Michigan Youth Corps is the finest job ever done in training young people anywhere, any place, any time," said Elizabeth Howe, director of the Department of Labor and the Youth Corps.

Strolling Around Town

by Fay Bovee

As the summer is ending, some of the flowers are looking better than ever. They like cooler weather just as well as I do. I think the hot weather affected a lot of lawns as I saw more weeds around town than I have seen in years. When the rains did come, I think everyone was too shocked to mow!

The Eagles Club on East M-72 has had beautiful flowers and landscaping now for several years. The Crawford County Library has an attractive wood-carved sign and we're happy to see the gazebo and flowers being finished in the Kraus vacant lot downtown. It is being done by the CSIP, a group of business people who are interested in improving the image of the town. Even the petunias in the back alley there look nice.

There is more activity in that same block as the "old American Legion building," more recently used by the Moose Lodge, was razed and new footings are being poured. We'll let you know later what is going in there.

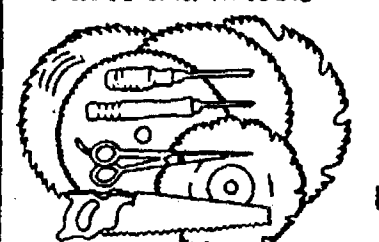

So to all of you who have worked hard to keep your lawns and gardens green and beautiful through this unusually warm summer — a big bouquet to you. Keep it up for another year! 'Til later —

CERTIFIED OPTICIAN

QUESTION: What is glaucoma and how can I tell if I have it?

ANSWER: Glaucoma is an eye disease in which the internal pressure of the eye rises to a point that the optic nerve becomes damaged. Pressure gradually builds up from an excessive production of fluid in the eye that does not drain properly. Glaucoma often develops gradually and painlessly, it can slowly destroy your vision without you knowing it. A procedure called tonometry measures the intraocular pressure of the eye and is a simple and painless test for glaucoma. This test is generally included in a thorough optometric examination by your Doctor of Optometry. Glaucoma is one of the leading causes of blindness in the U.S.

Bits of Talk

By Sandy McAnallen

Herbert H. Feldhauser, formerly of Grayling, recently attended a reunion of his WW II B-17 crew of the 493rd Bombardment Group, 860th Bombardment Squadron, Third Division, Eighth U.S. Air Force.

Eight surviving members of the original nine-member crew met in Hot Springs, Arkansas, for a reunion 43 years after their last mission. They successfully completed 25 bombing missions over Germany. They also survived a crash landing in England during a training run.

Gladys and Bill Tufts returned home on August 31 from a trip to Edinburgh, Scotland. They took several trips through the highlands and along the West Coast. Included was a trip to the Isle of Arran and a cruise of Loch Lomond.

They also attended the Military Tattoo at Edinburgh Castle. A program of dances from various parts of the British Commonwealth was included along with variables fife and drum, bands and bagpipe units culminating with a beautiful fireworks display.

Jack Perry of Union Lake spent several days visiting his cousin, Wanda Cardinal.

Les and Jan Gill and their two daughters, Jessica and Heather, of Mt. Pleasant, spent last week with their parents, Jack and Beth Seator and her brother, Bob Seator, at the Gierke farm.

Bob and Fay Bovee met their daughter, Dena Bovee, and friend, Bruce Goll, both of Worthington, Ohio, in Ann Arbor where they spent the Labor Day weekend.

Ruby Reetz's daughter, Janet and Patty, were here last week to visit their mother who is at Mercy Manor.

August 19 was Charlie Brummer's 80th birthday. But he wasn't home to celebrate it that day. Charlie was in Vandalia, Ohio, at the Grand American Trap Shoot. He has been participating in this shoot for the past 32 years and plans to go again next year. Charlie's birthday celebration plans weren't totally scratched, however. The following weekend, after Charlie returned home, Phyllis, Charlie's wife, decorated the house with balloons and other festive decorations and prepared delicious edibles for the visits of many friends and relatives who came and went throughout the week-end to visit with the Brummers and help celebrate with the birthday boy. People from Boothbay Harbor, Maine, South Bend, Indiana, Bunker Hill, Illinois and as far away as Redmond, Washington visited with Charlie and wished him happy birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Norcross of Grayling and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry McClain of Grayling were also Charlie's guests during the week-end celebration.

Loretta Barnes also celebrated a birthday in late August. She turned 94 years old. To join her in her celebration of this birthday, Loretta's daughter, Mrs. Florence Williams came from her home in Fort Wayne, Indiana and spent a weekend. On the Sunday of that weekend Loretta's granddaughter, Mrs. William Arnold and her family arrived for a visit. The Arnolds are also from Fort Wayne, Indiana. Sunday afternoon was spent at a family cookout.

Speaking of cookouts, Harold and Sally Golnick are at it again. Their last cookout with Italian sausage, kielbasa and bratwurst was such a huge success that they decided to do it again. This time their guests were Sally's sister and her husband, Patty and Bob Holzman, Steve Sheredy, Skip Kaiser and their daughter, Teresa Golnick. They celebrated Skip's recent promotion, discussed Teresa and Skips plans for the future and sisters Sally and Patty laughed about an old box of candy.

The Bobenmoyer family has returned from a trip to South Dakota. Sunshine and pleasant weather followed them the whole two weeks they traveled. Joy and Keith Bobenmoyer and their children, Sara, Bethany, Michael, Mary, Marcus and Jess took their motor home for the trip. On the way they stopped at Walls Drugs which they learned was the world's largest drugstore. They also saw four presidents at Mt. Rushmore and marveled at the Badlands and the beauty of the Black Hills. On their way home they encountered the 48th motorcycle rally in Sturgis, South Dakota, where there were 50 to 60,000 motorcyclists gathered for a couple of days. They also visited the Corn Palace of Mitchell and the Enchanted Doll Museum where thousands of antique as well as modern dolls are displayed. Finally they stopped at the Great Plains Zoo and Museum of Natural History, Siouxland Heritage Museum.

Then they went on to Maine, New Brunswick, and North Sidney, Nova Scotia where they boarded the ship J.R. Bond with their motor home and crossed the Gulf of St. Lawrence to Newfoundland. They headed for Cow Head, Newfoundland, which is Lobster capital of the world.

They also toured Gros Morn National Park where the Vikings landed. They boarded the ship Princess and crossed St. Lawrence Straits to Labrador. They came back to Newfoundland and toured the largest city St. John and visited Cape Spear.

In Nova Scotia toured Cabot trail and Bay of Fundy. They stayed the weekend in Shadiac, New Brunswick at Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dupreux, their Florida friends.

Children from households whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free and reduced-price meals.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced-price meals, households should fill out the form and return it to the school. Additional copies of the application form are available at the principal's office in each school. An application which does not contain all of the following information cannot be processed by the school: (1) the total monthly household income AND the amount and source of income received by each household member (such as wages, child support, etc.) OR the household's food stamp case or AFDC number if the household is on food stamps or receives AFDC; (2) names of all household members; (3) social security numbers of all household members 21 years of age or older, or the word "none" for any adult household member who does not have a social security number; and (4) the signature of an adult household member.

FOOD STAMP/AFDC HOUSEHOLDS: If you currently receive Food Stamps or "Aid to Families with Dependent Children" (AFDC) for your child, you only have to list your child's name and Food Stamp or AFDC case number, print your name and sign the application.

The information provided by the household is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility and verifying data. Applications may be verified by the school or other officials at any time during the school year.

If children are approved for free or reduced-price meal benefits, the household must report to the school increases in household income over $50 per month ($600 per year) and decreases in household size.

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. If a household is not currently eligible but has a decrease in household income, an increase in household size or if a household member becomes unemployed, the household should fill out an application at that time.

In most cases foster children are eligible for these benefits regardless of the household's income. If a household has foster children living with them and they wish to apply for free or reduced-price meals or milk for them, the household should contact the school for more information.

Under the provisions of the policy, the building principals will review applications and determine eligibility.

Parents or guardians dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. The household also has the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing the following official: Paul Lerg at 348-7641. Each school and the Crawford AuSable School District have a copy of the complete policy, which may be reviewed by any interested party. In the operation of the child feeding programs no child will be discriminated against on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, sex, or handicap. If any member of a household believes they have been discriminated against, they should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Alumni News

This is the Golden 50th Anniversary Class of G.H.S. They will have their reunion at the Annual Alumni Dinner on September 24. Here is a bit of trivia — when we honored Margaret Douglas for 38½ years in the system, she told me this was her first 5th grade class. A lot of you should remember that 5th grade room. Her middle name was Dedication.

From this class came two more teachers, Marie LaMotte Akers teaches 4th grade and Beatrice Peterson Rowland retired as H.S. Business teacher.

We have a lot of deleted addresses. If you did not get your newsletter, leave your name and address at the Alumni Office, 403 Mich. Ave. and Clara Sorenson will get one to you. All who graduate from GHS are eligible to attend our Alumni Dinner. All who teach in our Schools are invited to attend. Tickets are $8.00 each. Another picture will appear next week.

Roscommon Dominates Vikings in Opener

The Grayling Vikings traveled south to Roscommon and dropped their season opener 35-14. Roscommon dominated the first half, scoring on their first three possessions and taking a 21-6 lead at half time.

Grayling's only score in the first half came midway through the second quarter on a 56-yard pass from Matt Branch to Chris Skidmore. The conversion attempt was no good.

In the second half, Grayling's offense could not get on track fumbling on the first play of scrimmage and punting their next three possessions. Roscommon scored in the 3rd and 4th quarters.

Grayling scored late in the 4th quarter on an 18-yard touchdown run by Rusty Argue.

Grayling's defense looked good against the run but Roscommon was able to move the ball effectively through the air.

The leading tacklers for Grayling were John Gay, Ted Baynham, and Marty Jung. Head coach Don Stowers said Jeff Millikin also played a steady game on the defensive line for Grayling.

Stowers said the four Grayling turnovers were the crucial things hurting Grayling.

"It's tough playing defense when you're on the field most of the game," he said. "The offense gained about 200 yards but it was spotty, it didn't amount to enough."

The Vikings play a tough defensive team in Lake City Friday for the home opener.

The GHS varsity team consists of 27 players this year coached by Stowers, Mike Branch and Don Ferguson. Returning starters from last year are Chris Skidmore, Brian Kestock, Ted Baynham, Marty Jung, Rusty Argue, John Gay, Kevin Bickford, Jeff Millikin, and Jeremie Mead.

Other seniors on the team include Tim Hickey, Paul Baker, and Eric Waite. Two foreign exchange students, Pamilo Konsta, from Finland, and Rafael Mayoral, from Spain, are also on the team.

Juniors on the team are Frank Hartwick, Matt Spencer, Pat Gizinski, John

Lamie, Kevin Austin, Kory Schrock, Jim Abney, Chris Millikin, Chad Bonamie, and Jim Ducastle. Ducastle will be out the entire year with a broken leg suffered during practice.

Sophomores on the team are Matt Branch, Mickey McKinney, Nathan Ginther, and Todd Thorson.

Last year's record was 3 wins and 6 losses.

One of the most amazing college football teams of all-time was the Army team which featured Heisman Trophy winners Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis...The 3 years they played together, from 1944 through 1946, Army NEVER lost a game and outscored their opponents 1,179 to 161.

Who's the oldest man ever to play in the National Football League? ...The record is held by quarterback George Blanda who was 48 years old when he played for the Raiders in 1975.

Girls Open Hoop Season for GHS

The Grayling High School girls varsity basketball team took both quickness and experience onto their home court Tuesday night, September 6, when they met Roscommon for the team's season opener.

Returning letter winners are: Lori Gust, AJ Pratt, Deanne Phelps, Patti Tremblay, Linda Goodale, and Melanie Ojala.

Head Coach, Howard Lehti, feels confident that his team is ready. "The girls are fired up for Roscommon," he stated, "and we are going into the season much more experienced than last year. Our starting five have had a lot of playing time."

Other members of the team include juniors: Aimee Rochette, Peggy Kraus, Janet Bickford, Anne Petrosky, Margarita Perez, Peggy Smith and Nikki Trenary. Heather Stephenson is the only sophomore on the team.

Manager for the team is Margo Rembowski.

"We have the speed and we are conditioned," said Lehti. "I believe we are better conditioned than most of the teams that we will play this year."

Lehti plans to utilize the largest bench he has ever coached, 14 players, to run a controlled fast break situation. "We have the rebound strength with the quickness," he said, "and we are going to get the ball down the floor as quickly as we can."

"Our team is made up of high achievers," Lehti said, "and we are not going to be satisfied with second best. Our goal this year is to finish very high in the conference."

Mike Shearer will be serving again as the team's assistant coach.

Thursday, September 8, the team will be traveling to Rogers City for their first conference game.

TOUCHDOWN RUN -- Rusty Argue breaks free for a score

GOAL-LINE PLUNGE -- Dana Mirate lunges for a touchdown.

J.V. Win Opener 30-6

The Grayling J.V. squad enjoyed their season opener at home last Thursday night taking care of Roscommon 30-6.

Dana Mirate ran for the first and second Grayling touchdowns and both the extra points attempts for a 16-0 lead at halftime.

Jim Schwartz and Jamie Petrie intercepted passes to give Grayling good field position in the first half but the Vikings couldn't add any more scores. They were stopped on the one-foot line as the half ended.

Mirate scored another touchdown in the 3rd quarter and Shane Fraser added the two points.

Roscommon scored in the 4th quarter but Grayling stopped their conversion attempt. Shane Fraser added a touchdown late in the 4th quarter.

The Gospel of John

Part 47
Blind Beggar sees
Miracle Man

As John chapter eight revealed rejected light from God, so chapter nine tells us of a blind beggar who received God's light, and continued to grow in wisdom and knowledge of God. Jesus took the initiative contacting the man blind from birth. (John 9:1). His disciples thought this blindness was the direct result of sin. (John 9:2). Jesus reminded them that the blindness came not from sin, but was part of God's plan for God's glory. (John 9:3). Jesus told them He came to perform such works of deliverance. (John 9:4). He said, "As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world." (John 9:5). The healing of the blind was one of Christ's greatest miracles which proved His deity.

The miracle was performed in a most unusual way. "When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay, And said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing." (John 9:6, 7). This gives us a picture of Jesus as a human being. Using spit and dust in the healing process was no doubt repulsive to many people for different reasons. God is not limited by human methods and opinions. God is sovereign and always right.

The neighbors of the blind man looked at him as an idle beggar, and were confused by this miracle. (John 9:8). They questioned his identity. (John 9:9). They questioned his miracle. (John 9:10). He told them, "I am he" and told them about Jesus, "He answered and said, A man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash: and I went and washed, and I received sight." (John 9:11).

This social reject was considered a sinner by the disciples, an idle beggar by his neighbors, but a human being in need by Jesus Christ. We too were born spiritually blind. That his why Jesus told Nicodemus, "...Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God." (John 3:3). We cannot see spiritual things until the Spirit of God quickens us with the Word of God and brings us into the family of God. The first view we see of Jesus is his human work as He died on the cross for sins. He had to be a man to die on the cross for our sins. "Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed." (1 Peter 2:24). Have you received Jesus, the miracle working God/man?

Traveling The Right Road

Back in the days when train travel reigned supreme in America's transportation industry, an elderly lady boarded a train in the late evening.

As she sat waiting an hour for the train to pull out, she asked the conductor if she was on the train to Chicago. In fact, she asked him the same question each time he passed down the aisle.

Finally, he said, "My dear lady, why are you so anxious? I've told you ten times you're on the right train."

"Well, sir," she answered, "There are dozens of trains all lined up out here. What train I'm on now makes little difference, but in the morning it will make all the difference in the world!"

The elderly lady was dealing with a basic question of life: "Where will I be in the morning (ten years from now) if I continue on the road or track I'm on now?"

Does the track you're on take you to God's House?

Recipes

By Phyllis Brummer

Last week's column promised more salad dressings for diabetic persons and here they are:

Cooked Salad Dressings

1 egg, beaten
1 tsp. dry mustard
1/2 tsp. salt
pepper
1/4 c. hot water
2 tsp. butter
1 grain saccharin
1 tsp. gelatine
2 tsp. cold water
2 tbsp. vinegar

Soften gelatine in cold water. Combine mustard, salt, pepper and one tbsp. hot water until smooth. Add remaining hot water, butter and saccharin. Heat to boiling point. Add gelatine and stir until dissolved. Add hot mixture to beaten egg slowly, stirring constantly. Heat in double boiler until mixture starts to thicken, stirring constantly. Remove from fire and add vinegar. Cool and refrigerate. Makes 1 1/4 cups dressing.

Mineral Oil French Dressing

1 c. mineral oil (add 1 tbsp. olive oil for flavoring)
2 tsp. salt
1 tbsp. chopped onion
1 tsp. dry mustard
1/3 c. vinegar
1/4 tsp. pepper
Cayenne pepper
1 clove garlic
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce.

Combine dry ingredients. Add all other ingredients and beat thoroughly with egg beater or whisk. Store in covered jar and shake well before using. Makes 1 1/2 cups dressing.

Diabetic Chili Sauce

4 medium tomatoes
1 green pepper, chopped
1/2 small onion, chopped
1 c. vinegar
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. salt
1 grain saccharin

Combine all ingredients except saccharin and cook slowly about two hours, stirring frequently, until thick. Add saccharin and dissolve. Makes about 2 1/2 cups sauce.

Carol Carroll offers this recipe for dessert; it sounds good.

Diabetic Brownies

2 c. graham cracker crumbs
1/2 c. nuts
2 oz. semi-sweet chocolate pieces
2 tsp. liquid artificial sweetener
1/4 tsp. salt
1 c. skim milk

Combine all ingredients and bake in 8 inch square pan for 30 minutes at 350°. Spread 1/4 c. chocolate pieces, melted, over the top.

For those who are not diabetic, the Bob Evans Sausage Company suggests making kabobs with smoked sausage and your favorite vegetables and basting them with this lemon sauce:

Combine: 1/3 c. sugar, 4 stp. dry mustard, 1 tbsp. cornstarch, 3/4 tsp. basil, Add: 2/3 c. water, 2 tbsp. lemon juice.

Cook and stir until thick; reduce heat and simmer two minutes.

We added more lemon juice to make it thinner and more tart. It was good. We also grilled some thick pork chops over apple wood and basted them with the lemon sauce. It was a good combination.

Poet's Corner

The Street People of America

Come on folks,
Let's pitch in quick together
Sweep our city streets clean across the good old U.S.A.
of the street people by the thousands with shopping carts full of junk but to them it's silver and gold.

They are red, yellow, white and black Precious in God's sight
but a sore eye to ours
They are men, women and children from all parts of the world
Looking for something better in America
The land of milk and honey, they say
That's where we want to live.

By day they search for food to keep alive a hope, that someday soon
Jesus will come and take them up in the sky
Where the honey overflows with rainbows filled with silver and gold.

No more sickness, no more pain, no more searching through the city streets for a place to lay their heads at night
Have to keep moving they say least you die
We are a people of great unrest in America.

Verse or Worse

By Joseph D. Murphy

Woolies

We wore them from start of winter
Till the spring sun warmed the air
Those things we needed but hated
Our long wool underwear.

Once you put them on in the fall
You couldn't go without them until spring
If you did you were sure to die
Of pneumonia or some such thing.

It was bad enough for us fellows
But the girls hated them with a passion
There was no way they could wear them
And keep themselves in fashion.

Back then we had to walk to school
Through winter's cold and snow
We needed our long woolies
To stay warm enough to go.

When you got up on a cold winter morn
Before the days of central heat
The thunder mug would have some ice
Those cold floors would freeze your feet.

You were glad you had on long woolies
As you dressed there in the cold
No one wanted to start from scratch
Not even the brave and bold.

We didn't have nice warm bathrooms then
Where you could take a bath each day
Our bath tubs were galvanized wash tubs
Our toilets down the path a way.

Saturday night was bath night
The tub was set near the old kitchen range
So we'd be warm and near hot water
That's when our underwear we'd change.

The kids today don't seem to need them
With houses now so nice and warm
But things were a lot differeny
In my childhood on the farm.

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

Today's technology is reaching into every field of human endeavor. Hunting and fishing are no exception, with a wide variety of gizmos and widgets becoming available to assist the nimrod in pursuit of his prey.

Some of these items have one thing in common with equipment which has been around for decades — they are designed to catch the human more so than the dumber animal. Other items are improved versions of things which have been around for years. A good example of this is the "magnum sling shot". This "sophisticated shooting instrument for precision slingshot accuracy" has enough wire, balancing rods and counter balancing weights to make it look like something Luke Skywalker could use to defeat the Empire. And its only $29.95 plus tax and shipping.

And some of the new stuff is innovative. For example, so-called laser sights for guns or bows. These project a narrow beam of light which supposedly show where the projectile will strike. These laser sights are an artificial light and their use for hunting is unlawful. The use of any light which attaches to a gun or bow and illuminates the target is just as unlawful as the use of a spotlight, headlight or yard light in hunting.

Many of the new items on the market are unlawful for use in Michigan. Catalogs and stores can sell them, but remember, they only want to catch you and your money. If you have any doubts, check on the item.
